EXPERIENCE

Photojournalist, The Enterprise, Brockton, MA

February 1999 - today

General assignment staff photographer for the seven-day daily newspaper. Responsibilities include shooting 3-6 assignments per shift throughout southeastern Massachusetts ranging from professional and high school sports to spot news and feature packages. Strong lighting and writing skills with a strong eye towards accurate color reproduction on deadline. Fully digital production since November 1999 using Nikon's D1-series cameras. Practiced in remote digital transmission using dial-up internet FTP with laptops and cellular.

Photojournalist, Suburban World Newspapers, Inc., Needham, MA

May 1994 - February 1999

Staff photographer for a group of seven weekly newspapers with a combined circulation of 30,000. Covered the full spectrum of assignments from features to spot news. Produced award-winning documentary projects. In 1995 designed a MacOS-based digital imaging system to scan, caption and archive production. Worked closely with editors in use of single images and the layout of picture packages.

Photography instructor, Curry College, Milton, MA

Spring 1998

Instructed regional police officers in the art and craft of photography. Hired by the college's off campus continuing education division to teach a visual arts elective for members of their criminal justice program.

Photographer, Westwood Studios, Needham, MA

August 1993 - May 1994

Involved in all aspects of the family portrait studio operation. Responsible for studio portrait sittings, high school candid and sports photography, laboratory work, and customer relations.

Photographer, College of the Holy Cross Sports Information Department

Fall 1991 - Spring 1993

Provided sports photography for use in seasonal media guides and weekly football and basketball programs, including a high-profile "photo of the week" section showcasing a definitive image from the previous game.
